

TO JOIN THE MILITIA.

Two Companies to Be Organized in Wheeling To-day.

ONE IS TO HAVE A GATLING GUN

Attachment—The Companies Will Be Put in Good Shape so as to Be Able to Take in the Encampment of the State Troops at Martinsburg Next Month—Eighty-five Men in the Movement.

Within the past week the idea to organize one or more companies of militia to be attached to the First Regiment of the West Virginia National Guard, that had been dropped some time ago, was revived and has been taken up with much interest by a number of the young men of the city who are possessed of the military spirit. The matter has been pushed energetically by Major R. H. D. Willis, of the staff of the First Regiment, Major Barclay and others, and the result is that about eighty-five young men have promised to enlist in the guard.

The expectations of the organizers have been more than realized, the project at first being only for one company, but as the number of recruits increased it was seen that it would be necessary to have two companies. A meeting of the young men interested in the matter is to be held at the chamber of commerce this evening, when the preliminary steps towards organization will be taken. The companies will be known as A and B of the First Regiment, and one of them will have a trained Gatling gun squad, the state having promised, it is understood, that one of these deadly machines shall be entrusted to a Wheeling company.

After organization has been effected drilling of the boys will at once be commenced and prosecuted with dispatch so that the locals will make a creditable showing at the annual encampment of the soldiers which promises to be the best in the history of the guard. With two companies in the state militia, Wheeling will be the best represented city in the state, with the exception of the Second City—Huntington—which has had two for several years.

THEY ARE MUSTERED OUT.

There is Now No State Militia Company at Bethany.

Captain M. McD. Price, adjutant of the First Regiment, West Virginia National Guard, returned yesterday from Bethany, where he was sent to muster out the company stationed there, attached to the First. After some exciting experience the officer succeeded in securing the equipment of the company, and sent it to the state capital. Several of the company were loath to give up their guns and it was only when the captain went to a squire and started legal proceedings that the kickers would come to time. For some time it has been no secret that the state of discipline maintained by Captain Shriver was not of the character necessary for the proper control of the men of the company. These things being duly considered it was decided to muster out the men. Captain Price is not anxious to be sent on a similar mission, however. He leaves for Morgantown this morning, where he will make his report to Colonel East.

Something that happened during the stay of the troops in Marshall county, that has just leaked out, brought about the sudden determination to muster the company out of service. It seems that eight of the men in the Bethany company got tired of the life in camp at Benwood Junction. They went to their captain and asked to be allowed to go home. Of course the captain refused the request, and supposed that would end the matter. The next morning, however, it was found that eight men had deserted the camp and skipped out for home. A court martial may yet take a hand in this matter.

No Crutches Now

A Cripple With Rheumatism

Made Perfectly Well By Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Mr. W. G. Clark, Little Rock, Ark.

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.: 'Allow me to thank you for the great good Hood's Sarsaparilla has done me. It is one of the best medicines I ever saw. For years I suffered with rheumatism and headache, hereditary in our family. I tried everything I could hear of for my own cure, but could not find any relief until I began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. I must say I was one of the

Most Surprised Men

ever seen, for long before I finished the first bottle I was so much improved and felt so much better that I would often pinch myself to see if I was the same man. I could hardly believe that I was, for I could eat and sleep well, and I could go without my crutches, and after I had taken my third bottle was a new man and able to do as much work as I ever could. I have laid my old crutches away as a

Memento of My Rheumatism

In the past, I always take pleasure in recommending Hood's Sarsaparilla to suffering humanity as the best and only medicine that ever did me any good. It has made a stout, healthy man out of me, when I was such a wretch. I

IN ALASKAN WATERS.

An Interesting Letter from a Wheeling Boy There.

CADET JOHN S. DODDRIDGE WRITES

From Sitka, Where He Expects to Remain on the U. S. Ship Mohican for Six Months or So—A Description of the Cruise from Vancouver Island to the United States' Chilly Territory.

From a recent private letter written by Cadet John S. Doddridge, of this city, who is now cruising in Alaskan waters on the U. S. ship Mohican, the INTELLIGENCER is permitted to make the following very interesting extracts of general public interest:

U. S. S. MOHICAN, SITKA, ALASKA, JUNE 3, 1894.

My last letter was from the Straits of Georgia, inside of Vancouver Island. From there we steamed north along the coast way up into the Gulf of Alaska. We were very much disappointed in not being able to see Mt. St. Elias. We were only sixty miles from this 19,000-foot mountain, but the weather was not clear enough to permit us to see it. We then turned southward and steamed into Sitka.

We skirted along the coast for a day before we reached Sitka. In the forenoon it was foggy and slimy, shutting out our view of the coast, but in the afternoon it suddenly cleared. The sun shined brightly on the lofty snow covered peaks of the coast range presented a sight that can never be forgotten. Miles upon miles of glaciers making their slow progress toward the sea could be seen in the gorges.

We reached Sitka about the 25th of May. Sitka is the capital of Alaska. It has a population about 400, about half Indians. It is a quaint old town. It was founded in the early part of the century by a Russian named Baranoff, who was then Russian governor of Alaska. Sitka is essentially a Russian town. The heavy log houses and the Greek church which stands in the center of the town all remind one of the descriptions of Siberia. The United States flag now flies over the little barracks, but that is about the only thing American in Sitka. The Indians are known as Sitkash. They are friendly and gain their livelihood by fishing and hunting. On the 28th we left Sitka and took a week's cruise around the Gulf of Alaska, getting back to Sitka to-day. The mail from the United States just came, but I did not receive any letter from you.

How long we will be here I cannot tell, but I imagine it will be a long five months. The weather here in June is about like it is in Wheeling during the latter part of March. In three or four days we will leave for Unalaska, one of the islands of the Aleutian group.

FAILURE AT PARKERSBURG.

Assignment of the Parkersburg Chair and Furniture Company.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., June 20.—The Parkersburg Chair and Furniture Company made an assignment this afternoon to S. L. Gould and W. E. White. The liabilities are $32,000. The plant is a new and fine one, worth in good times a large sum of money, but it is not likely to sell for enough now to pay the indebtedness. The company is a joint stock company, with $25,000 capital. Gen. B. D. Spillman is president of the company and B. D. Neal secretary. The directors are B. D. Spillman, W. N. Miller, W. H. Wolfe, J. H. Fischer, W. H. Smith, Jr., W. T. Rittenhouse, Samuel Keenan, A. B. White and G. L. Ruddle. The outside indebtedness will all be paid, but it is probable that the stockholders will have to lose their stock. Some of the stockholders have as much as $5,000 each in the company. The failure is the worst that has occurred in Parkersburg for some time.
